

Mtrack Boatwatch Presented in Dubrovnik

The International Association of Marine Investigators invited Automatrix as sponsors to present at their 14th Annual European conference in Dubrovnik, Croatia.

With over 6000 marine thefts reported annually and less than 10% recovered, the IAMI considered their 3000 members could benefit from understanding the Mtrack Boatwatch theft recovery service. Delegates present at the conference witnessed a sub 1 metre live radio location find to help them identify the clear advantages of GSM / RF location technology over standard GPS only based tracking systems.

Representatives Felix Evans from Pantenius and Karl Davies from Haven Knox-Johnston (part of the Amlin group) both appeared upbeat after the Automatrix presentation. Further appreciating how technical expertise working in conjunction with the Mtrack Boatwatch independent Thatcham Quality Certification could be utilised to help improve theft recovery rates in the marine sector.

Peter Clark from C Claims adjusters / Stolen Boats Committee, commented that there should be a way forward for certified and reputable brands such as Mtrack Boatwatch providing they could gain important market exposure.

Additional marine insurers are to be encouraged to attend future IAMI conferences, so that they too, can benefit from the immensely informative and proactive conference agenda.

Matthias Mink
From the German Marine Police details over 6000 marine theft claims per year and less than 10% recovery

The International Association of Marine Investigators mission is to develop and provide high levels of training to law enforcement, insurance investigators, and other marine professionals. Working and training together with both public and private sectors, to combat marine theft, arson, fraud, and other criminal activity in the marine environment.

The International delegation of Law Enforcement Officers, Insurance Industry personnel and Investigators attended the two day event at the Importanne Resort in Dubrovnik.

Subjects covered within the conference included Internet Search Methods, Interview Techniques, Interactive Fire and Rescue Investigation, Piracy, Stolen Vessels Database, Salvage and finally the Automatrix Mtrack Boatwatch Theft Recovery Service.

Richard Taylor from Automatrix conducted a successful live mtrack find having been challenged by the organisers to correctly identify the delegate who had an mtrack unit secretly taped to the underside of their seat.

Automatrix expressed thanks to all who encouraged them to sponsor the conference, especially the IAMI European Chairman Mr Simon Lofting from the Essex Police Marine Unit and Mikael Broberg from the IAMI steering committee.

Automatrix Limited
+44 (0) 1329 663812

www.boatwatch.com